

I WILL NOT FAIL YOU

When He spoke, our hearts knew the words were true
We heard both plans, then our conclusion drew
The rebellion we chose not to pursue
We heard the Savior, "I will not fail you"

Satan waged a war of embittered hate -
Eternal expulsion his awful state
Shouting for joy we planned our mortal date
Onward! To pass the test, our second estate

Praying in the garden on bended knee,
The weight of the world borne for you and me
"Not my will, but Thine", His submissive plea
He did not fail the trial of Gethsemane

He did not fail us on this fallen sphere
Not once from the eternal goal slightly veer
On the cross His perfect life men did jeer
Overcoming death, He suppressed all fear

Often times that victory comes to view,
The Spirit bearing record it is true
How blest mankind Jesus saw the work through
How wondrous His words, "I will not fail you"

What burden man his commandments to do?
Each temptation our challenge to subdue
So when we stand in that celestial hue
We return, report, "I did not fail you"

Onward! Forward with anticipation
Building our lives on that sure foundation
For God's eternal remuneration
Known to the faithful as exaltation
